- Heading section with:
    - o the window name
    - o window close icon
- Topic section that provides information on the version of HRE installed, with its Release date.

    Particular information about HRE s included, in:

    License detail.

    Software developer acknowledgements.
- Lower section of the window includes:

    a 'Close' button to 'close' this window (same action as the X icon in the window Heading section), returning focus to the main User Interface.

AboutHRE main window

The embedded text in the Licences scrollbar text panel, reads:

History Research Environment (HRE) is a community project to create a free open source platform for recording a wide range of genealogical, historical and social research.
The development community is supported by a not-for-profit company, History Research Environment Limited, limited by guarantee and registered under the laws of England and Wales.

All code developed by HRE Ltd is copyright the individual developers, and is released under the GNU Affero General Public License (GNU AGPL) https://www.gnu.org/licenses/agpl-3.0.en.html.

Reuse of the HRE software is permitted only under the terms of the license. Using the HRE software or any derivative of the software to offer a service over the internet is strictly prohibited.

HRE was created with the use of Eclipse, made available under the Eclipse Public Licence v2.0, using AdoptOpenJDK Java licenced under Apache Licence v2.0 and GPL v2 + CE

HRE software contains binary redistributions of the following open-source components:
(this is followed by a list of 3rd party components and their licence rules)

A section below then includes acknowledgement of the Software Developers.
Text in the scrollable text box is as follows:

The History Research Environment software development has only resulted from the contribution of a growing number of people who have volunteered their time and skills to the project. In grateful acknowledgement of their efforts, we recognize:
